It was rumored last week that there was a scarlet fever at Glenns. Mr. J. D. Watts, who is just from the spot, says that the rumor was not well founded. As usual, everybody is well and happy at Glenns.
Mr. J. C. Garlington, of the Spartanburg Herald was in town yesterday. Mr. Garlington's visits to Laurens are always pleasant events to crowds of friends and admirers.
Married at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. Lewis Mahaffey in Laurens county, S. C., July 28th 1891, by Rev. J. L. Outz, Mr. W. Clinton Babbs and Miss Salilo T. Mahaffey.
Whatever may be the price of cotton this fall, it will bring as much if not more for Laurens than anywhere else. Many a many a town would like to have Laurens' reputation as a cotton market.
What about the county fair? It won't do to have it and it should be more successful even than usual. It is not far wrong to say that Laurens does not do as much as she might with profit in showing herself off.
An alarm of fire brought the fire department and a large crowd of citizens to the residence of Col. Ball on the night of the 12th inst. Outbuildings were on fire, but the fire was soon extinguished. It was fortunate that it occurred at an early hour, as the residence was dangerously near. The loss was not heavy. No insurance.

Enoree Succumbs to Laurens.
Enoree and Laurens played great ball on the local diamond Saturday and our own champions captured the victory and the glory by a score of sixteen to ten. The strangers played a very pretty game and are by no means tyros in the manipulation of the sphere. But the truth is the Laurens boys are all thorough ball players and the team that conquers them will have something to be proud of.
Laurens took the lead at the start and never let loose. Irby and Cox were the battery for the strangers and Jim Crews and John Langston held the points for the home team.
Echoes.
Our good neighbor, the ADVERTISER completed the sixth year of its existence last week. We wish it, and all concerned, many happy, prosperous anniversaries.—Herald.
THE LAURENS ADVERTISER, one of the very best newspapers in South Carolina, has completed its sixth year. During the first five years of its existence, the Advertiser has been owned and edited by J. C. Garlington, who, upon leaving Laurens a year ago to assume the editorship of the Spartanburg Herald, disposed of the paper to W. W. Ball. It is gratifying, but not surprising, to learn that under the editorship of these fearless and brilliant young journalists the ADVERTISER has achieved financial as well as literary success.—The State.
Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and Lung Affections, also of all Nervous Complaints, and having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 829 Powers' Block Rochester, N. Y.
The S. C. College.
By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the South Carolina College will open on Sept. 20th. The following is from a circular issued by Dr. Woodward, the newly elected president:
"The Faculty consists of the following: Professors: James Woodrow, President, and Professor of Biology, Geology and Mineralogy; Benjamin Sloan, Professor of Physics and Astronomy; W. B. Burney, Professor of Chemistry; E. L. Patton, Professor of Ancient Languages; E. S. Joynes, Professor of Modern Languages; R. M. Davis, Professor of History, Political Economy and Civics; J. P. Boyce, Jr., Professor of Law; J. W. Fland, Chaplain, and Professor of Mental and Moral Science, Logic, and Evidence of Christianity; F. C. Woodward, Professor of English Language and Literature, and Rhetoric; E. W. Davis, Professor of Mathematics; J. J. McMahon, Adjunct Professor of English Language and Literature, and Rhetoric; T. F. Boyce, Jr., Adjunct Professor of Biology, Geology, and Mineralogy; Alfred Bagby, Adjunct Professor of Ancient Languages.
"The Professorships discontinued in the recent reorganization are those of Pedagogics, Veterinary Science, Mechanical Engineering, Materia Medica, Pharmacy, Bacteriology and (a year ago) Agriculture and Agricultural Chemistry. These are important subjects; but they are technological, and involve the application rather than the acquisition of knowledge, and are not properly included in a liberal education. Nothing has been taken away from the College that can diminish its value and effectiveness in promoting the most thorough Classical, Literary and Scientific education of our youth. The support of the hearty support of the people of the State." JAMES WOODROW, President.
Cedar Grove.
The protracted meeting at Cedar Grove is being conducted by our pastor, assisted by Rev. S. M. Hughes. Mr. Hughes has been most of the preaching and does it well.
Work is being done on the roads and it is needed badly.
A few days ago Tilla Thackston says he had a narrow escape from drowning while crossing the river at Van Patton's, and but for the timely arrival of help he and his horse would have been drowned.
A petition is being circulated for signatures, asking the Post Office Department to establish a post office at Bellevue. The people of that section think they need an office and the Department will probably establish one there.
Truly, Cedar Grove is a great country for people to get married. Since our last, Mr. Oscar Young and Miss Mary Blaine, Mr. Harrison King and Miss Esther Young and Mr. Henry Taylor and Miss O. Thompson were married by Rev. C. T. Schaaf. Also Mr. Joseph M. Bragg to Mrs. Rebecca McGill by W. P. Coker, Notary Public.
Dr. Ben Jones has located at the Van Patton place for the practice of his profession.
Mrs. Lola Berry, wife of L. M. Berry, of Fork Shoals, died of congestion of the heart on 22nd of July and was buried at Fork Shoals church, of which she was a member. She leaves a husband, an infant boy and a large number of friends and relatives. Deceased was the youngest daughter of O. H. P. and A. B. Coker and was about twenty-seven years of age.
H. B. Randolph, Brunswick, Ga., writes: "I was under the care of nine different doctors, but not one did me the good that Botanic Balm has done me."

In Pennsylvania Mountains.
TWIN LAKE CAMP, August 10th, '91.
LAURENS ADVERTISER.
Here on the summit of one of the highest mountain ranges of Northern Pennsylvania—just between two beautiful lakes (aptly named)—I am camping with a genial company of Northern friends. It is to me a new experience and a very pleasant one.
I conceive a pair of clear lakes on the top of a mountain—water so blue that they appear like two great liquid eyes turned toward heaven.
At night, the stars reflected seem to float in them. Through the day, the sun, the clouds and the shadows on the shore produce many changes.
So much to give you some slight idea of the picturesque spot—the point where just now I am passing a week most delightfully in the "Wells Camp." Several tents are pitched about a roomy rustic building away in the woods in which those who prefer camp life and sleep. Most prefer tent life. The noisy busy world's wheels of traffic and travel are not heard up here. It is very restful, after the thousand miles of railroad travel to reach the spot. My ready introduction into a circle (in a sense) select is due to one with me from Laurens and to Port Jervis and Milford friends.
If I could describe the camp-life as I find it here I am sure you would be charmed. Professional men and gentlemen students from several of the colleges are with us; sweet girl graduates, two, who have just behind them their books are all the more bright and witty for the time for having so done. I cannot begin to tell you in a brief letter all about the enjoyments furnished here in the hills. And then the air and the fare and the wonderful appetite somehow diminished to match, make meal time a very interesting period three times every day.
The bill of fare, I am sure, would astonish you, ranging from tropical fruits and melons to wild duck and woodcock shot on the shores of the lakes and splendid pickled and other fine fish from these waters. This is not roughing it! In bachelor fashion though we be in the depths of the wilderness. We have good cooking and clean serving by the lady chaperons of the camp; and the fathers and the uncles of the camp are good providers. I must mention how greatly pleased were the gentlemen members of our camp by the contribution of lovely cakes sent by the ladies of Laurens, and that every one who tasted pronounced them delicious.
You know very well that the gallantry of a Southerner never forsakes him in any place, but here with these bright Yankee girls in the tented woods I confess I am some times puzzled in what way to show it.
To see her and meet her in camp costume, gliding independently through the green trees in colors that would please Ruskin, or in bathing suit aloft, is a study.
The elements of water and pure mountain air with exercise, seem to conspire to make her appear fresh, lovable and irresistible.
I do not know how it will go with me, but I am pretty sure, "Billy," it would go hard with your more susceptible nature were you here. They are gathered here from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and North and South Carolina—a general happy company.
There is a difference in the aspect of this region of the North and that in which we dwell. This altitude gives the coolness of atmosphere desired at this season; ours, the winter-warmth and flowery.
Both are lovely; in both are friends; and it is the kindness of these and their love after all that renders any spot, where these are, dear to us. Much as I see to admire here at the North, the South, the "Sunny South" is home to me and holding above and beneath her sod those nearest to me, she will always claim precedence wherever I go.
I may write again from another point.
S. M.
Dial Dots.
The meeting at Dials closed last Thursday with very good results. Everybody enjoyed the meeting more or less. The preaching was excellent. Bro. Carlisle did good work among us. May we walk as he has walked and we may meet "over there," where parting will be no more.
Uncle Isaac Armstrong died last Sunday morning, the 9th, at six o'clock. The old gentleman was in his eighty-ninth year. He bore his sickness with patience. "Thou art gone but not forgotten."
William Wilbanks and family, of Pleasant, also layette, Bartlett and wife visited relatives at Dials last week.
Willis Yeargin was very badly hurt last week while trying to guide a loaded wagon down a steep hill by the tongue.
G. L. Robertson is captain of our Lander's Club. Captain George says he gets the leaf every time.

A Colored Man on the Ministry.
LAURENS, S. C., Aug. 14, '91.
EDITOR ADVERTISER:
We beg leave for space in your columns to insert this, if possible. There is a great deal of complaint being made concerning the colored ministers, especially in this county, being so expensive. We have in this county between sixty and seventy-five ministers (colored.) We pay to them a standing salary from $150 to $200 each, every year, which amounts to no less than $9,750 every twelve months.
Besides that we pay to a good many of them $10 per month for the support of their families; consequently the total amount would be between $13,000 and $14,000 at the expiration of twelve months. Therefore, paying this enormous amount causes many poor children to suffer for want of necessities, which they could have had.
The ministers say that they are compelled to have this salary, if not they can't preach, they can't support their wives and send their children to school, and that they can't buy such clothing as required for a minister to wear. When they expect all this from people that are not as able to work as they are, what do they think will become of them and their children? We have several old men and women that can hardly make a support for themselves, much less for their able, strong, so-called ministers and their wives. It is very seldom you hear their (the poor, helpless class) names called during their meetings. After preaching is over they generally call for a large collection for the support of their families and when they think they have got the last cent they take the audience possesses, then they ask for a collection for the poor, consequently the poor get nothing. Then the ministers and stewards say that they have discharged their duty, when they know that they have drained the pockets of their members and that they could get out of the congregation. Therefore, the poor and needy ones are left in a worse condition than before. We do earnestly beg the entire community to take better care of their own families. Feed, clothe and educate your own children, and we assure you that you will get along a great deal better.
If the wives and children of our ministers would work themselves, they would not be eternally begging. We believe in educating our own children, not other people's.
All that we have to do is to unite and decide that we will not stand any longer, and we will see how much more we will have to distribute among our own children. Start the ball rolling and divide the yarn. "COLORED OBSERVER."
Cross Hill Notes.
Children's day at Liberty Springs was a success as far as the speeches and recitation and music was concerned, but the rain very interfered with the social part of the day.
The meeting at Liberty Springs closed on Thursday. There were five additions to the church and we trust much other good in the reviving and spiritualizing the members of the church.
There has been a large number of visitors in the town for the past week.
Mrs. Lucy McGowan and family, of Laurens, have been visiting the family of Dr. McSwain and others.
The Misses Simpson, of Edgefield, neices of Gov. Tillman, are visiting the family of N. B. Davenport.
Capt. Ben Matthews and family have been visiting W. B. Fuller.
John Young and sister, Miss Lula, of Abbeville, have been visiting the family of Dr. McSwain and others.
Mrs. Dr. Ellis, of Edgefield, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Miller and other relatives.
Ex-Governor Lubbock and wife, of Texas, are visiting the family of Dr. J. H. Miller.
Numerous others are visiting our town on pleasure and business but we have not space to mention all by name.
There has been a deal of sickness lately. A son of A. D. Owens has been very ill but is now convalescent.
Mrs. John C. McGowan has been very ill but it is hoped that there is a change for the better and we hope she will soon be well.
Capt. M. S. Boyce has been in the hospital for a week, but it is reported that he will be discharged in a day or two.
The wife of W. H. Turner has been very sick but at this time is nearly well.
Cross Hill is still on a boom. Buildings are going up as if by magic and the old houses are being renovated and painted. Our town council are having some good work done on the streets, and when we consider that but only been ten months since the first train rolled over the railroad and only seven months since the town was incorporated, it is astonishing how much has been done, and we are made confident of the future greatness of our town.
With six stores in full blast and two more in the near future, and several residences under contract, Cross Hill is not to be laughed at as a town.

THEY ALL SAY

That for purifying the blood, strengthening the appetite, removing that tired feeling, and building up the system, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best. No other blood medicine is so rapid in its effects nor so permanent in its results.

"I was a great sufferer from a low condition of the blood and general debility, becoming finally so reduced that I was unfit for work. Nothing that I did for the complaint helped me so much as Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a few bottles of which restored me to health and strength. I take every opportunity to recommend this medicine in similar cases."—C. Evick, 14 East Main st., Chilliote, Ohio.

"Sometimes ago I found my system entirely run down. I had a feeling of constant fatigue and languor and very little ambition for any kind of effort. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did with the best results. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used."—F. Mellow, 162 Broadway, Chelsea, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Molokous, Ms.

"I have suffered for years from a low condition of the blood and general debility, and have had such severe pains in my back and shoulders that it was impossible at times to do any work. I was greatly helped by a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and take every opportunity to speak of my cure to those who are afflicted as I was."—William P. Stearns, 9 Free st., Portland, Me.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

Makes the Weak Strong

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-deserved reputation in this locality for restoring healthy, vigorous action to the vital organs of the body when they have become weakened or exhausted. I have used it in my family for this purpose, especially after the system had become depleted from malarial attacks."—Charles C. Hamilton, Emberson, Texas.

"After years of experience as a druggist, during which time I have seen, handled, and heard of blood-purifiers almost without number, I can conscientiously say that, out genuine merit, I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as without a rival. This medicine has always inspired and deserved confidence, and at no time has it ever had so great a hold upon the public as at the present day."—George Linnett, Dispensing Chemist, 48 Sherman ave., Newark, N. J.

"The general health, stands at the head of the blood-purifiers."—J. M. Linnett, M. D., Yardley, Pa.

"I have for many years recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being superior to all other blood-purifiers."—J. M. Linnett, M. D., Yardley, Pa.
